

CALL FOR PAPERS

Southeast Asia: A Multidisciplinary Journal

Southeast Asia: A Multidisciplinary Journal (SEAMJ) invites submissions related to the arts, social sciences and humanities. These include but are not limited to topics on the environment, globalisation, migration, development, historical studies, linguistics, public health, sociology, and anthropology. Empirical research, systematic reviews, policy-driven submissions, and book reviews are welcome.

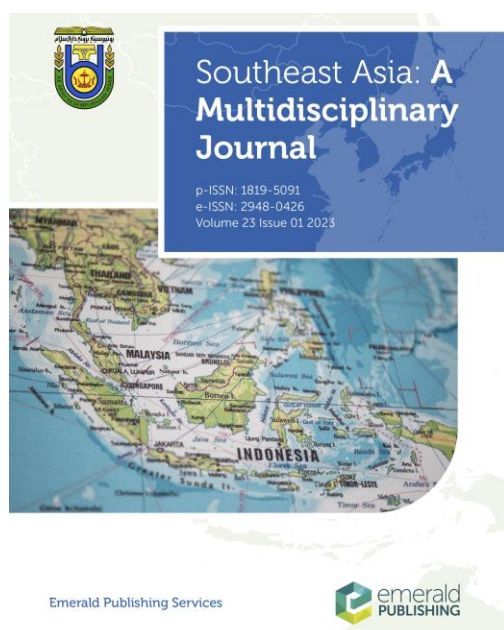

Why publish with us?

- Tri-annual open access multidisciplinary journal
- Double-blind review
- No submission charge or article processing charge
